Woman Factory Head Rejects Union Demands

Maintaining that neither the employee nor the employer would benefit in any manner by a union organization of her plant, the woman president of the only furniture factory in the Santa Clara Valley, this week continued her resistance to union demands. Mrs. Eleanor Jacobsen, president of the Twin Cities Mfg. Co., 300 Railway Ave., Campbell, met with John A. Silva, business agent of Upholsterers Union Local 28, on Wednesday and rejected the union demands as "unworkable and unfair".

MRS. ELEANOR JACOBSEN
. . . Defies Union

The local factory, which employs approximately 20 people, has been picketed by the upholsterers union since April 6.

The union claims that the factory laid off its employees on April 5 after Mrs. Jacobsen had learned that several of her employees had joined the union.

Mrs. Jacobsen, on the other hand, said that the lay-off was part of general reorganization plan. The new assembly-line production line at the factory now requires fewer workers and places the firm in a better position in the highly competitive furniture field.

The company president asserted the change-over is now complete. The factory now has 20 employes where it previously required 26 to do the job. She said that 13 of the former employees have returned to work and seven new workers have been added to replace those on strike.

Mrs. Jacobsen believes that many of the employees are earning more than union members in other plants and she also points out that the closest similar operation to the Campbell firm is in San Leandro and there is no local union headquarters in this area. This would inconvenience both the employee and employer she maintains, in personnel relations.

Mrs. Jacobsen said that union is asking for a "closed shop" with all members to be hired through San Francisco. She especially resents another union demand which would require that no supervisor would be allowed to work in the plant. She claims this would keep her from working in her own place of business.

Twin Cities Mfg. Co., was founded in San Francisco by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jacobsen in 1950, was moved to San Jose in 1951 and to its present location on Railway Ave. in Campbell in 1955. Milton Jacobsen is sales manager of the company and his wife, Eleanor, is president and general manager. The company manufactures upholstered living room furniture.

Mrs. Jacobsen, a firm believer in Campbell's future, was recently named to the board of directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, the first woman to serve on the board in many years.

No two quartets were alike either in song styling or dress and all were called back repeatedly for encoures. During intermission the audience participat- of Barbarer Shop Quartet Singed enthusiastically in a community sing.

Volunteer Firemen Recreate 'Model T' Job

When the Model T Ford (1912 model) fire engine proudly chugs down the street in the old Settlers Day parade Sunday afternoon, May 19, it will bring back many fond memories to a number of old-timers of Campbell who were members of the volunteer fire department when it was formed here in 1913.

As a matter of fact, Jack Scott, fire chief of the present Campbell fire department which has undertaken the task of recreating the 1912 Model T, hopes that four of the original members of the volunteers will ride the antique vehicle in the parade.

Chief Scott who himself was a member of the volunteers 'way back in '13 hopes to be joined by Judge John D. Blaine, Ethan Lanphear and Ed Genesci on the fire wagon for the parade. Lanphear was the first fire chief.

Community Event

The restoration of the fire apparatus, although a project of the present-day volunteer department has turned into a semi-public event through the financial cooperation of a number of local merchants who contributed more than enough to underwrite the restoring job.

Mrs. Byron Botts, wife of a local garage owner spearheaded the informal and probably the briefest fund-raising drive on record. When she overheard some of the volunteers mention that they needed a little more dough to finish the job properly, on her own volition she casually contacted a number of merchants. The money was forthcoming immediately.

Because of the spontaneous response, it was necessary to limit the donations so that all those who wanted to help could have the opportunity to do so.

Firemen Appreciate

Chief Scott and the volunteers were amazed at the response and to show their appreciation they have stepped-up their work in order to be certain that the Model T will roll come Old Settlers Day.

Scott feels that this attitude on the part of the people is traceable to the fact that many of the pioneers, as well as newcomers, wish to see the city grow and prosper but, at the same time, do not want to lose the tie-in with the past. Long time residents here, especially, want to perpetuate the memory of those hardy pioneers of this community who, as volunteer fireman by their loyalty and de-

Campbell Area Churches Observe Easter Season

By Vivian Faulkner

Churches in Campbell will join others the world over in celebrating Easter Sunday with special services and bring to a climax special Holy Week observances which began last week with Palm Sunday.

Today is Maundy or Holy Thursday and many of the churches will mark the day with special evening services and Holy Communion.

Almost all churches will observe Good Friday with either afternoon or evening services. Services in the two Catholic churches in this area, St. Lucy's, Campbell and St. Francis Cabrini, Cambrian Park, will begin at noon and continue through midnight. The Congregational, First Methodist and Cambrian Methodist Churches will unite for a Good Friday service from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Congregational Church.

In keeping with reverent spirit of the day, the Chamber of Commerce directors have recommended that the stores close from noon to 3 p.m. Merchants were furnished Good Friday closing cards which were distributed to the merchants of Campbell this week by women of the various churches.

Cooperating in the distribution of cards were: Miss Rita Moore and Miss Frieda Moore, of the Congregational Church; Mesdames Henry Uchytil, Bill Beyer and Iva Quinsland, of the First Methodist Church; Mesdames Edna Bowles, Mary Jane Adams, Frank Pregliasco, George P. Lejko, of St. Lucy's Catholic Church.

An outline of special services to be held in Campbell area churches from today through Easter Sunday is as follows:

Holy Week comes to a climax with the service of the Vigil of Easter which will begin at 11:30 p.m. Several striking ceremonies such as the lighting of the new fire, the blessing of the baptismal font, and the renewal of baptismal vows, will be included. The service closes with the joyful first Mass of the Resurrection.

Zone Change for Sunberry Drive Again Comes Before City Planners

Residents of Sunberry Drive in Campbell are again expected to be represented at the Planning Commission meeting tonight when the application of a zone-change for four lots of Philip Sondeno comes before the City Planners on a continued hearing. The meeting is at 7:30 in the City Hall.

If the Sunberry Drive residents appear tonight, it will make their third appearance before a city body in the last two weeks in their fight to hold their area strictly residential. Philip Sondeno is asking that four lots at Sunberry Drive and Kamson Way be changed to multiple dwelling.

Affecting the situation somewhat also is the referral back to the City Planners by the City Council of the zone-change asked by Joseph Dahl and S. Prestigiacomo for property extending from Winchester Road to the Sondeno property. This referral also comes before the Planners tonight. The Sunberry residents have also protested a zone-change of part of this area because of its alleged overall effect on their residential values.

There are three public hearings slated for tonight but only one of them is expected to provoke any controversy, to wit, the one affecting the set back requirements on the streets with established plan lines, Hamilton Ave., Winchester Road and Campbell Ave.

One of the other hearings concerns the application of Charles Rose and others for a zone change for propery at Latimer Ave. and Winchester Road and the other is on the application of the Campbell Water Co., for a use permit for a pump station on W. Campbell Ave. in the Los Ranchitos tract.

Other matters coming before the Planners include, approval of plans for a 14-unit apartment building submitted by William E. King to be located on Harrison Ave. and approval of the tentative subdivision map of Quito Rancho.

The Planners are also expected to adopt the 1957-58 budget and to hear a report from City Engineer Mark E. Thomas on the new Junipero Serra freeway.

votion to the community have protected life and property of the town over the years.

First Self-Propelled

The town of Campbell had a fire brigade much earlier than 1913, but it was only in that year that a regular chartered fire department was formed with self-propelled equipment. This included the hose wagon and the chemical truck that is now being recreated.

The restoration project stemed from the suggestion of Councilman Richard Morton. He informed the present-day volunteers that the chemical tanks that were part of Campbell's first self-propelled fire apparatus were available, if they wanted them. The tanks had been purchased by the late Harold Morton (a one-time Campbell volunteer fireman and Councilman Morton's father) in 1937 from the old Campbell Fire District for fire protection use at the Morton lunmber yard in town.

Scholtz Donates Chassis

The voluneers took the tanks and mounted them on a Model T Ford chassis which had been donated to them by Robert Scholtz, an old-time resident of Campbell and vitally interested in the preservation of historical points of interest for the community.

Members of the Campbell Fire Department are taking loving care in their recreation job. They believe that when they have completed their work it will se closely resemble the orginial piece of fire apparatus used in 1913 that the four old-timers who will ride on it during Old Settlers Day parade will feel right at home.

Should a fire break out during the parade, it would not be surprising to see the four pioneer smoke-eaters and their antique wagon answer the call.

Water District Wants Firm to Stop Digging

The Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District is Protesting the excavation by Western Gravel Co., in the vicinity of Page Dam. The district is reported to be planning an injunction suit to halt the further excavation by the gravel company.

The district claims that continued excavation will weaken the dam structure. However the gravel company maintains that its excavation is not close enough to endanger the dam and that it is allowed by prior agreement with the district.

Notes from the High Schools

Distribution of report cards marked the end of the third quarter at the high schools last Wednesday. At Campbell High School, the school dance band, led by instructor Bill Perkins, was the attraction at an enthusiastically received assembly the first of the week, with the Modern Dance class providing some attractive interludes.

The Modern Dance girls performed as the main entertainment at the PTA Sixth District dinner at the Fair Grounds Monday night, for 800 guests. Mrs. Virginia Jennings, their teacher, explained the various steps in learning the dance, illustrated by the students, climaxed by three dances which the girls had composed themselves.

At Camden High School, the first parent luncheon of the year was held in the Home Economics dining room, with a group of mothers of students new to the district as guests. After luncheon, served by the students of Miss Nancy Crowell, the mothers toured the school, visited a class of John Meischke's, watched the art class drawing a sheep peacefully grazing on the school grounds, and saw many other features of the school, with Dean Chamberlin, Camden principal, as guide. There will be a series of such luncheons at Camden, as there are at Campbell High School.

The faculty had a party at Camden for H. E. Alfson, educational coordinator of the District, who has served Camden High as principal this year, until principal Chamberlin's return. With Chamberlin resuming his duties when school convenes after Easter vacation. Alfson will return to his office at District headquarters.

Camden and Campbell High School PTAs joined forces for the April meeting, where the program centered around a most interesting talk on the district by Laurance Hill, district superintendent. He showed many slides of views of the area, taken at different times, showing the tremendous growth of the district.

CHURCHES MAKE RELIGION CENSUS

Residents within the city limits of Saratoga include members of nearly 50 forms of religious faith, according to the April census made by the six established churches of the new municipality.

The house to house canvass, under the direction of Admiral Joseph A. Connolly, USN, Ret., and Colonel George R. Tressel, USAF, Ret., has been classified on index cards, one card to a household. In listing the religious preference of the household, that of the wife was taken as the official basis, as in similar undertakings in other cities.

The six churches cooperating in the census were the First Baptist Church, Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Sacred Heart Church, Saratoga Federated Church, St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church and Westhope United Presbyterian Church.

NEW SECURITY MANAGER

W. S. "Bill" Lee, vice president of Lee Bros. supermarkets has announced the appointment of James M. Sorenson as Lee Bros. new security sales manager. Sorenson was formerly Hayward Branch Manager of Sutro and Co. Prior to that, he was associated with Chamber of Commerce of the United States, of which he was Director of the five western states.

Buc Swimmers Head for Home With Clean Record for League Meets

Two more swimming meet victories were rung up by the Campbell High varsity and Bees before the start of the Easter vacation. Only one more SCVAL league opponent remains (Los Gatos, April 25) before the SCVAL trials begin. The Buc varsity has yet to be stopped this year.

Fremont and Washington were the victims last week. Fremont fell on Tuesday by a 68-9 count and Washington was defeated on Thursday 60 to 17. The local Bees also scored victories, winning from Fremont 51 to 17 and from Washington 46 to 22. To make matters even more complete for the home team the Buc reserves also won from Fremont 44½ to 23½.

Fremont Meet

In the Fremont meet the varsity swimmers took all first places and every second except the 50-yard free style. Los Gatos Squeaks Out 62-60 Win Over Campbell in League Trackfest Championship - bound Los Gatos turned the heat on Campbell last Friday to win a thrill-packed track meet by a 62 to 60 score on the local oval. However, Mike Profit, Campbell's star weightman, tossed the shot in the meet a startling 60-feet, 7½ inches to regain his twelfth spot on the all-time prep shot putters record list.

The loss for the Campbell team was their second of the season (The first loss was to James Lick) Lick and Los Gatos are tied for the top spot in the SCVAL title race with Compbell dropping down to fourth. Final standings are not taken from the season, however, but on the over all total compiled at the finals next month.

Mike Lewis of Lincoln in San Francisco heads the prep shot putters list in California with Profit trying to close the gap. Lewis topped Profit with a toss of 61 feet 2 inches at the El Cerrito relays last week. Profit also captured the discus at 134 -feet, 11-inches but a foul toss of 142 feet was his best toss of the day.

Weightman Gary Prnjak and hurdler, Dave Alvarez probably make up the margin of loss for the Bucs as both performers were unable to enter their events because of sickness. Los Gatos was minus one varsity trackster in Jim Liggett but the Cats still managed to squeak out the two point victory. But the meet went down to the 880 relay before the winner was determined.

Monty Nielsen wasn't taking any chances after his defeat at the hands of Jerry Ramos of Camden. He ran his best time in the 100-yard dash at 10.2, also taking the 220 at 22.9. The only double-winner for Los Gatos was Gallup in the 140 low-hurdles and the high-hurdles.

Jerry Shenefiel captured the broad jump at 20-feet, 8½ ins. with Harris of Campbell making it one-two for Campbell. Nino Martinez took top spot in the 440 while teammate Gregg Hoffman placed third in the 880 and Leroy States brought down the second spot in the mile run.

Eleven feet six inches was the top mark reached by Tuttle of Campbell in the pole vault for first place with Wall clearing the bar at just short of that mark for a second spot.

Jerry Shenefiel, Nino Martinez, Gregg Hoffman, and Neilsen won the 880 relay for Campbell with a time of 1:35.9, fifteen yards ahead of the Los Gatos anchor man Spiteri.

Campbell came through in the B, C, and D divisions in fine style winning all three classes by wide margins. In class B, Campbell toppled Los Gatos 88 to 34. The Class C score was 64 to 31 and the D's, 52-34.

No acton is slated for this week because of the Easter Vacation but the Campbell Tracksters will meet Washington of Centerville next Tuesday afternoon.

San Jose State Holds All-Comers Meet on May 3

The fourth annual San Jose State All-Comers track and field meet May 4 is expected to attract more than 300 performers from ranks of high school, junior college, college, club and unattached athletes.

Bud Winter, San Jose State track coach and meet director, today announced several new awards which have been added in view of the added interest in the meet.

The 18th District, Knights of Columbus will sponsor the mile run and have provided a handsome permanent trophy as well as an individual trophy for the winner. In addition, Outstanding Performer awards have been added for the high school and junior college divisions as well as the open division.

Winter pointed out that this meet offers trackmen of all categories, valuable competition on their own level as they prepare for later meets. In the All-Comers meet, there are no heats. Each man is seeded according to his previous performances and is matched with men of the same caliber. In the past there have been as many as four different races in the same event with the pairing system resulting in a close field in each case.

Profit Goes Up!

by Richard Ferguson

Mike Profit again added his name to the record column as he cracked the shot put mark at the Davis Picnic last Saturday afternoon with a toss of 57-feet, 8¾ inches. Although far-off form from his 60 foot tosses, the put abolished the old mark of 56 feet 8¼ inches set way back in 1937 by Modesto's Wilbur Thompson.

The record probably would have been farther, if Mike Lewis of San Francisco had attended the Picnic. Lewis was unable to attend because of a knee injury. LeRoy Sheilds of Washington in San Francisco failed to make the finals as he fouled on all his trial tosses. Lewis bested Profit's mark this year.

Washington Trims Bucs on Diamond By 9 to 5 Count

By Richard Ferguson

Washington thumped the Buc baseballers last Thursday afternoon at Fremont 9-5 to move into a three-way tie for the top spot in SCVAL league play. Campbell is now tied for fourth place with Mountain View with a 3-2 record behind the leaders Lick, Los Gatos, and Washington at 4-1.

Roger Almquist started on the mound for Campbell with the Huskies bringing across one run in the bottom of the first inning. Campbell brought across one run in the top of the second inning but failed to gain the upper hand as they went down swinging.

Washington broke the game wide open in the third inning scoring three runs on two homers and a single. Hiro Kuritori knocked out a homer with Santos on first base for two runs. Tim Riedy followed Kuritori's lead by blasting a home run on the second pitch after his teammates round tripper.

Campbell made it 2-4 in the top of the fourth inning, but Orrin Olk on the hill for Washington pitched his best in a clutch.

Stan Robello of the Huskies collected a four bagger to boost the score to 5-2 with Washington on top in the fourth.

Washington counted three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning all on errors by the Campbell mittmen. Catching fire in the seventh inning the Bucs brought across three runs off starter Olk. Don Stewart however cooled off the rally to preserve Olk's victory.

Line Score:

Campbell Golfers Win Two Non-League Meets

Two non-league teams, Lincoln and Gilroy met defeat at the hands of the Campbell golf team with Lincoln bowing 10½ to 7½ at Hillview golf course last Wednesday, and Gilroy falling 1 5-0 at Gilroy April 5th.

Terry Wilson shot the day's low on a nine hole match defeating Verne Brown at Gilroy with a 38, with Marv Lawson also bringing down a nine hole total of 38. Ron Rowe downed Dick James 40 to 44, while Grant Burton was swamping his opponent 44-55. Jim Nevis made it a sweep by waxing his opponent 46-60 in a nine hole tilt.

Lincoln found the going a little easier bowing by only three points. Terry Wilson again turned in a very stunning game shooting a 71 on an 18 hole round which is one under par for the Hillview course. Marv Lawson added two points to the Buc cause, with Harvey Alford adding 2, Ron Rowe 2½, Chuck Harrison and Grant Burton oneeach.

Fremont Whips Campbell 4-3 on Tennis Courts

Bowing to the Fremont Indians 4-3 on the Buccaneers home court, Campbell lost its second meet in two years. The upset gives the Bucs two losses in league play.

Gene Andres, Bruce Johnson, and Terry Garrison scored the victories with Art Hill and Don Brown dropping their contests to the opponents. Andres swamped Haskins 6-4, 6-0 with Johnson throttling Fremont's Johnson 6-2, 6-2. Terry Garrison downed Taylor 6-1, 6-3 to round out Campbell's victories in the singles division.

In the doubles matches Bill Powell and Gary Benson bowed 6-3, 6-1 with their teamates Paul Hicks and David Bartelson falling 7-5, 4-6, 6-3.

CALIFORNIA ARTISTS

"California Artists, 1957" is the title of the San Jose State College Centennial art exhibit which opens in the college library on May 2. The exhibit is one of the events celebrating the 100th anniversary of the college, which was started in San Francisco in 1857.

BUBBLE BUBBLE NO TOIL OR TROUBLE

Cheese melts enticingly throughout this pretty easy-to-make bubble loaf. And so it is the ideal bread to use for meat sandwiches. If you have a yen for them hot, sauté on both sides until golden brown.

CHEESE BUBBLE LOAF

- ¾ cup milk
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2¼ teaspoons salt
- 4½ tablespoons shortening
- ¾ cup warm (not hot) water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
- 1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
- 4½ cups sifted enriched flour
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- ½ pound Cheddar cheese, grated

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast, stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm mixture. Add half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl; brush top with shortening. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour or until doubled in bulk. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide dough in half. Form each half into a roll about 12 inches long. Cut each roll into 24 equal pieces. Form into balls. In 2 well-greased loaf pans about 9 x 5 x 3 inches, place a layer of balls about ½ inch apart. Brush lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle with half the grated cheese. Arrange a second layer of balls on top of first. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour or until top of dough is slightly higher than edges of pans. Brush with more butter. Bake in 375° F. (moderate oven) for 20 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

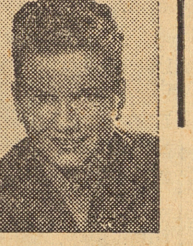
NANCY HAVEN'S

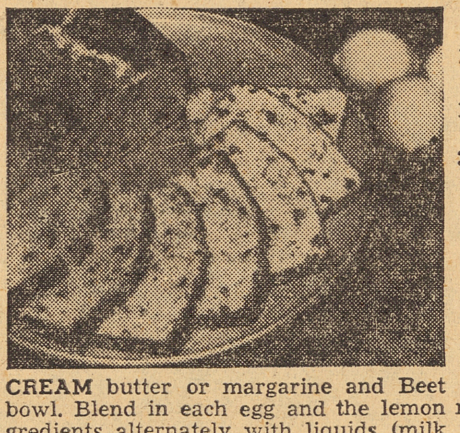
Recipe of the Month

LEMON-NUT BREAD



NANCY HAVEN

A refreshing lift at any meal and a special bread for Easter Sunday brunch. It's moist and delicious plain as well as toasted and spread with butter or margarine.



4	tablespoons butter or margarine
1¼	cups Beet Sugar
2	eggs
1½	teaspoons finely grated lemon rind
3¼	cups sifted all-purpose flour
3	teaspoons baking powder
½	teaspoon each salt, soda
⅔	cup milk
4	tablespoons lemon juice
¾	cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts

CREAM butter or margarine and Beet Sugar together in mixing bowl. Blend in each egg and the lemon rind. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with liquids (milk and lemon juice). Fold in nut meats.

SPOON batter into a lightly greased loaf pan (9x5x2½ in.), being sure thick batter is well into the corners of the pan.

BAKE in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour or until knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove from pan, cool.

HINTS: If you prefer a nut bread without a cracked top crust, allow the batter to stand in the pan at room temperature for about 20 minutes before baking.
Nut bread cuts more easily and flavors are more mellow if it is cooled and wrapped for 24 hours before serving.

Bagby Home and School Club

Tuesday night, April 30, is the date set for Open House and a dinner at Bagby School. Each class room is busy preparing an exhibit of projects so parents and visitors can see the work being done by the class and individual pupils. Teachers will be present to explain the work and talk to parents.

Dinner will be served in the cafetorium before the Open House. Because last year's dinner was such a success, the same menu is planned for this year. It will consist of green salad, French bread, beans with meat, cookies and ice cream.

Newly elected officers of the Home and School Club will serve and work with the cafeteria supervisor.

A program of dancing and entertainment has been planned and refreshments will be on sale all evening.

NATURE'S CLASSROOMS

Studying nature in nature's own classrooms will again be standard procedure when the West Coast Nature School holds its three one-week sessions this summer. The school, officially connected with San Jose State College, is staffed by members of the Natural Science Division faculty. This year's sessions will be held at the following places: Mendocino Woodlands, Sequoia National Park, and Cambria Pines.

California's 1956 corn crop had an estimated value of $24,602,000.

All Motorists Should Now Have Car Registration

With completion of 1957 vehicle renewals, the Department of Motor Vehicles has notified traffic law enforcement agencies of the State that motorists now should be able to show evidence of current registration when stopped for any purpose on the public highways.

Motor Vehicles Director Paul Mason said in Sacramento: "Mail applications in 1957 reached us in unprecedented numbers on February 4, the deadline date, and during several days thereafter with February 4 postmarks. The processing of these last minute renewal applications is necessarily slower than the in-person applications over the counter. Most of the more complicated cases received in the mail have now been processed, and those few that are pending should have a receipt or other evidence that they have filed for renewal legally."

The evidence of 1957 registration consists of a reflectorized red sticker attached to the rear license plate, and a registration card for the current year. According to law, the card should be displayed in the driver's compartment in a position that may be seen from outside of the vehicle.

California's 1956 almond crop had an estimated value of $43,872,000.

BAKE BUNNY ROLLS FOR EASTER MORN

Bunnies, the almost universal symbol of Easter, make an appealing yeast-raised roll for the holiday breakfast. Your youngsters will love to help you shape and decorate them. Bunnies should have pink ears so these are frosted with pink confectioners' sugar frosting.

EASTER BUNNIES

- ⅔ cup milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- ⅔ cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 6 cups sifted enriched flour

Scald milk. Stir in ½ cup sugar, salt and shortening. Set aside to cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast). Add 3 tablespoons sugar. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and eggs. Add and stir in half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour or enough to make a dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until the dough is smooth and satiny and does not stick to the board. Put dough into greased bowl and brush top with melted shortening. Cover with a cloth; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Punch down dough, pull sides into center, turn out on board. Roll small pieces of dough with palms to form ropes ⅓-inch thick and 10 to 12 inches long. To shape bunnies, tie ropes in loose knots, bringing ends up straight to form ears. Press in raisins for eyes. Brush bunnies with margarine or butter. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees (hot oven) 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Frost ears with pink confectioners' sugar frosting.

LOCAL AREA WOMEN TO ATTEND MEET

Two local members of Delta Kappa Gamma, Omega Chapter, will be delegates to the state convenion at Hotel Mark Hopkins May 3, 4, and 5. They are Mrs. John Sillstrop, chapter president and second grade teacher at Fruitvale School, a resident of Saratoga; and Miss Esther Michelson of Los Gatos, retired director of Elementary Education in Santa Barbara City Schools.

Theme of the Delta Kappa Gamma Convention will be "Coming of Age." Banquet guest speaker will be Sir Robert Hadow, England's consul general at San Francisco. He will discuss "Poliical Maturity in World Affairs." The luncheon talk will be given by Dr. Lois Meek Stolz, professor of psychology at Stanford University. Her topic will be "Women in Professional Roles."

Church Slates Organ Concert

An organ concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Sunday, April 28, at the new Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave.

Raymond White, dean of Music at San Francisco State College, will perform at the newly-installed Allen organ, one of the largest electronic organs in the Santa Clara Valley. Since its installation, the organ has aroused the interest of people in neighboring communities and this concert stems from requests that more people have an opportunity to hear this type of music.

Staged as part of the 68th Anniversary Celebration of the Congregational Church, the affair is sponsored by a group of members to establish a music fund to further music activities in the church. Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan is general chairman.

There will be no charge for the concert, however donations will be accepted for the music fund.

AN EASTER FABLE...

Once there were two rabbits, name of Garfield and Clyde,
Who set out to seek their fortunes, and hunted far and wide.
One day they came to an ocean, but Garfield wasn't abashed.
Trusting his luck to nimble feet, he ran—jumped—splashed!
Meanwhile, Clyde was thinking hard and got an inspiration.
He dyed the eggs in a duck's nest all the colors in creation.
In gratitude, the delighted duck sailed Clyde across the sea
Where he became a big success as the jolly Easter Bunny!

MORAL: If you want to get ahead, a nest egg is a lot more help than a rabbit's foot. So start saving up your nest egg now, in a savings account at Bank of America. (Where else can you get 3% interest plus so much safety, convenience and availability for your money?) These nest eggs go great with candy eggs, too, as Easter gifts for children!

NICE GOING!

You've done it again—added, subtracted, fussed and fumed, and finally filed your income tax returns. (At least, we hope you have!) But why not make it easier on yourself next year? Start paying all your bills with Bank of America checks. Keep your cancelled checks on file. Then, when it's tax time again, use them to add up and prove your deductions. Easter Seal Sale Lags in County

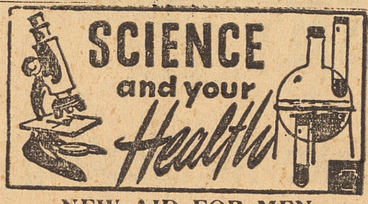
With the Easter Seal campaign lagging in Campbell and throughout Santa Clara County, Jay McCabe, Easter Seal chairman this week issued an urgent appeal for contributions.

"Our county-wide goal of $41,000 is modest compared to the work that is being done," McCabe said.

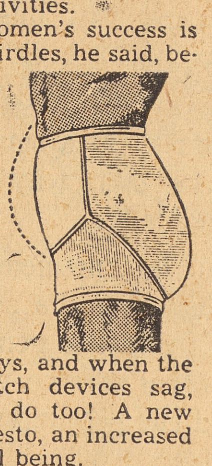
The Society is carrying forward a vigorous program of assistance and rehabilitative services. A sheltered workshop, direct aid in the home, help with medical care and appliances, transportation and a summer camp for crippled children (the only one of its kind in northern California) are some of the things highlighting the work for deserving and handicapped youngsters in this county.

All persons willing to give are asked to mail their contributions to the Crippled Children's Society headquarters, 299 W San Fernando St., San Jose.



NEW AID FOR MEN

The time is coming, if indeed, it is not already here, when men will have to give thought to wearing an abdominal support. According to Dr. Burgess Gordon, president of Women's Medical college of Philadelphia, men who resort to artificial aid feel better and find themselves better able to remain in the race against women in activities.



Some of women's success is due to their girdles, he said, because they give support that elevates the abdomen and eases the movement of air in and out of the lungs, thus helping put necessary oxygen into the tissues, Dr Gordon says, and when the two-way stretch devices sag, their wearers do too! A new girdle and, presto, an increased feeling of well being.

Perhaps part of man's problem up to now has been that no one had designed the proper garment. But no longer is this true, for the Vassar company, Chicago, has designed and produced a washable garment of pure lastex and nylon with a patented woven top that won't roll or cut, and has no belts, buckles, zippers or cords. It pulls the stomach firmly in and up, and replaces muscle elasticity.

This posture aid has a special front panel that's comfortable, trims the waist and supports the back to reduce daily fatigue and ache.

Called the Breek, you can wear it for sports—fishing, golf or tennis—business or gardening. When you step into it, as you do your shorts, you'll step out like a new man, a younger looking one, who feels better and is more fit for any daily grind.

Postal Employees Take the Beating

Curtailing of the services of the post office department by the postmaster general because of the lack of funds has emphasized more than ever the part the post office plays in the everyday existence of the American people.

We also think this hue and cry over the postal service (or lack of it) has focused the attention of the public on another point, one that has been tossed around for years and has never been settled satisfactorily.

Is the post office department a service or is it a business that must pay its own way? This is the question that arises periodically.

We do not believe that the American people want the postal service to operate on the same basis as say, General Motors. We think the general public is of the opinion that the postal service was instituted originally as a service and the people want it to stay that way.

We feel this question of operation should be setteld once and for all. It is unfair to try to reconcile both philosophies (service or big business), for the postal employee and the general public will be the ones who will take the beating in the long run.

We are convinced that the postal employee is underpaid in comparison to workers in other comparable fields. We know of a number of employees of the department who are forced to take an additional job in order to make ends meet. That is an unhealthy situation and the public will eventually suffer because of inefficient service.

We are convinced that the postal employees today are in a sense subsidizing the department because they are not being paid adequately. We feel that no one group should be penalized for something that affects us all.

It stands to reason that because of the low pay of personnel in the postal department, there will be a high percentage of employee turnover. It has been estimated that this turnover will reach 33-1/3 per cent. Because of this turnover in help, delivery schedules will suffer and the public will lose.

We realize that requesting higher pay is nothing new. Teachers, labor unions and other groups are constantly advocating higher pay. And it is generally the public that must foot the bill, although the public in some cases is only indirectly affected.

In the postal case, however, the public not only must foot the bill but is directly affected by the service involved. In other words, it is Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public's business what gives in the department.

We think that Mr. and Mrs. Public will agree with us that it is unfair to try to make the budget balance by underpaying the employees. We feel that the postal employees have a real grievance and the general public will agree, if the facts of the case are made known.

How Come No Women?

All the school boards and city commissions in this area have something in common. None of them have a woman member.

There is something wrong with such a picture. We firmly believe that steps should be taken to rectify the situation.

It is a record that does not speak well for the community, or for that matter, the female of the species.

Surely it is not a lack of interest on the part of the women folk that has caused such a phenomenon. We know for a fact that the women in this area are just as vitally interested in community activities and betterment as in any other locality. So it does not follow that just because they are not serving on the boards that they are not concerned with the community's welfare.

How come then we find ourselves in the unusual position of having no gals on the boards?

Frankly we don't know how come. The women can be fully as capable as the men in governmental administration work; and, in many cases, women have more time to devote to such activities than the men.

Anyway, we think it is something to think about.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Over the years I seem to have learned that we don't get public improvements that cost money and have to be voted for without fighting for them. These battles can be undertaken in the mood of sport.

In general we are too much inclined to get our sport in games as such. But real life itself can be made a game. Then we get our sport partly at least in something far more worth while than sport as such.

Sport implies conflict. When we have conflict we have a story. What is called fiction consists of imaginary conflict. But here at hand is a copy of the "Post" with four short stories and eight articles, suggesting there is twice as much public interest in real life conflict as in imaginary conflict.

But no thrill in a conflict we read about equals the thrill in a conflict we have played a part in.

Have You Voted?

"Have you voted yet?" asks the Campbell Press. Well, I haven't. I don't want to deprive George our editor of the thrill of conflict with my inertia.

You see, that thrill George is getting or is going to get I have had in past battles. In the Press of April 4 Mrs. Edna F. Smith, who with her husband was a former owner, mentioned the battle for a new school building and auditorium. She felt that winning this battle was a favorable turning point in Campbell's progress.

I am glad she spoke of this battle. It was largely thanks to the Smiths that I was elected to the school board and was its president in that conflict from first to last.

The old school building was a conventional classic of the period, good to look at but a wreck as to roof and interior, which was flooded in every rain. The structural design had the affection of the people, folk who as children had attended more or less such a school themselves. Why ask for anything better? Fix it up, patch it, it would be good for years.

The most approved design had windows that opened at the bottom. The architect had a small model which proved by a lighted candle that unless air came in near floor level children would smother. For eight rooms, office auditorium and equipment the need would be about $25,000.

Voters Defeat Bonds

We asked our voters for bonds of this amout and were soundly defeated. We tried again and were defeated worse. Then a joint committee formed with our Chamber of Commerce held 22 meetings. Then a public mass meeting was held and all the findings presented.

The original design was approved. Argument centered on to be or not to be an auditorium. To be was finally approved. Amount of bonds approved then and voted later was $20,000.

When bids were opened the lowest except one was about $22,000, leaving us not enough for the building and less than nothing for equipment - or so it felt to the board. The one possible bid was about $18,000, but the bidder looked much perturbed.

It soon came out that the low bidder had forgotten to include a roof. And a good roof was our special need!

The district attorney advised us to let the low bidder off. To be sure we had his guarantee check, but our legal advice was that such a deal could not prosper.

We met with the bidder and the architect, who happened to be brothers. We sat, and sat, in thick silence. At last the other side spoke. They had figured a way that with the bidder himself and his foreman working, and with cutting out some af the frills, it could be done.

It was done, and the building turned out to be first class in every way. After we had used it for years the high school paid us $25,000 for it and our small playground, and it was called the Annex. It served the high school well and long.

First Try - $155,000

As for the elementary school, the present union was formed and $155,000 bonds voted on the first try. With the $25,000 from the high school the elementary had $180,000 for building, grounds, and equipment. (The $25,000 bonds for the high school to buy the Annex were also voted on the first try.)

When completed about 1922 the large grammar school building on the corner of Campbell Avenue and Winchester Road was called the finest public school building west of the Rocky Mountains.

From a traffic point of view its location is absurd, but it has certainly advertised Campbell and drawn population.

And the entire adventure was some of the most thrilling sport in the world.

OUT on the LIMB
with George Vierhus

We are extremely envious of those individuals who, outwardly at least, give no sign that they are upset. No matter how difficult or exasperating the situation, these individuals appear unperturbed and unruffled.

They may be seething inside but one wouldn't know it. They even don't give themselves away by their voices. There is no inflection to indicate that they are angry.

As we say, we are envious of those ra re birds who can handle themselves so calmly. They provide such a contrast to our own actions and reactions at times.

By no stretch of the imagination can anyone call our temperperament even. In fact there are times when it pitches so far up and down the track that we are a little ashamed of its gyrations.

We have lost our temper so many times that it is a wonder that we still can locate it.

The only compensating factor we can think of for such a situation is that we were told once that by "blowing-off" rather than "holding things inside" a person decreases his chances of getting ulcers.

The bright side of the picture then is, of course, that we don't have ulcers which is unusual in a profession in which ulcers are rated high on the list of occupational diseases.

However, there are times when the cure or the prevention is considerably more severe than the disease itself. On others, that is.

—o—

We have learned that the inflection in our voice often reflects how we are feeling at the moment. So after being bawled out a couple of times for the way we have sounded over the phone, we have decided not to use the phone unless we are cool, calm and collected (to coin a phrase).

We were told the other day by one of our woman readers who had called us that we certainly sounded more pleasant than we had the other time she had called.

We couldn't recall the other time but it certainly provided food for thought on our part. We are going to see if we cannot do a better controlling job in the future.

—o—

We note with pleasure that people do read this column. Of course many of those who read it take exception to some of the items that appear in it but that is only natural. It certainly would be a sad situation if everyone had the same opinion on all subjects.

Heck, it would take half the fun out of life, we think.

—o—

We briefly noted in this column last week that there has been a sort of unwritten understanding for many years that allows for representation from certain specific sections on the Campbell elementary school board.

We hadn't known about this informal borough system before and apparently a number of other people hadn't either because we received a number of calls about the setup as mentioned in the column. One of the callers also wondered what we meant when we said that a party "had been approached to run" for the school board. The person was curious over how the "approach" was made.

We pointed out that, as a rule, it was a difficult task to get anyone to accept the job as trustee. It is a time-consuming and thankless task at its best, so "approach" probably meant more or less begging a guy to take the time to do a public service.

—o—

Another item in the column provoked one of our subscribers to such an extent that she told the carrier boy, who came around to make his monthly collection, that she wouldn't pay him but wanted the editor himself to come around in person to collect the 25 cents per month. She implied that she had a number of things on her mind. From what we gathered from our carrier, the things probably were not compliments for us either.

We informed the irate woman by phone that it was her privilege to cancel her subscription any time she wanted and for any reason. She also could take exception to anything we wrote. That, too, was her privilege.

The carrier boy, we pointed out, was being paid a percentage of what he collected and it was not fair for him to take the beating just because we sounded off. (We might have added that we paid the boy from the office so he wasn't really out anything. Heck, we didn't want the little guy to lose out on account of us).

But that's the way the ball bounces. Everyone just can't have the same idea on subjects. Believe us, they don't, we know.

—o—

To carry that out one step further, if everyone did have the same ideas, there would be no further need for attorneys or laws.

And what a gap that would make!

For example, the other night at our own City Council meeting we counted six attorneys present which lately has been about par for the course. This included the two attorneys on the Council (Mayor John M. Chargin and Richard Morton) and City Attorney Joseph Bonacina. Other counselors present were John Thorne, George Stepovich and Robert Tedesco.

Golly, a guy could have gotten almost any legal question answered with that many lawyers around.

Chances are, however, with six attorneys, there could have been six different answers.

Courtesy Is Basis For Many Traffic Laws, Claims CHP

Courtesy is the basis for many traffic laws says the California Highway Patrol.

"Traffic laws regulating right-of-way, the use of hand or mechanical signals and car lights at night are all based on common courtesy," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Courteous drivers usually obey these laws giving the right-of-way, using signals to indicate turns and stops and dimming headlights for the other driver.

Practicing courtesy in traffic tends to keep a driver out of accident trouble and helps others stay out of such trouble too," Caldwell stated. "Other laws based on courtesy include the minimum speed law, driving in the right hand lane on multiple lane roadways, following too closely and parking regulations.

Courteous driving and walking in traffic and continued obedience to the traffic rules will do much to reduce our traffic accident problem."

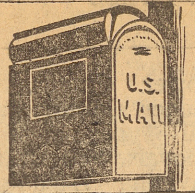
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...



CITY IMPROVEMENTS

Editor The Campbell Press
and
Councilman Richard Morton:

Sirs:—I have read and studied with much interest your discussion of the improvements needed in the very new City of Campbell. I have been a resident and property owner about one year here, but I would like to offer a few suggestions.

1. As noted on my straw ballot, storm drains, sewers, fire prevention equipment with a place to keep it are musts.

2. Street improvements are a necessity. Before any improvements of any nature is attempted I believe the City should look into the fact that all streets do not belong to the City. For example a short time ago I requested that some work be done on the south end of Esther Ave. I was informed by the Supt that he could not do anything for the reason the City did not own, or have the right. I was advised that the owners must dedicate or deed to the city, a right of way, and work would be done at once. The Title Co. says I own so much land, and no part of the street is included. So, who owns what? I was also informed there were several other streets in the City in the same predicament. Now to keep all streets on a common grade, now or at a future date of improvement, I believe the City should control all the streets, as any other City now does.

3. A substantial Revolving fund, if properly handled, is only good business, and should be set up. Such a fund is used in other Cities with success and in many ways at a substantial saving to the tax payers.

4. Parks—it might be well for a very young City to forego that expenditure for the time being, at least until such an improvement can be had on a pay as you go basis.

Finally—In a rapidly expanding community it is unlikely the demand for services will, in the foreseeable future decrease. Hence it would be inaccurate to ever expect a lowering in taxes until all bonds are retired.

This may, of course, be a long range hope, but above all, the taxpayer should be first assured of a full dollars worth for every dollar of taxes collected.

If bonds are asked for, and that seems to be the most logical way to raise the money, the public should be informed of every detail of City income, fixed or otherwise. I would suggest, licenses of all kinds, probable taxes, refunds from state gas tax, and a check of population should be kept up with on this, and also liquor licenses. Justly so, expenditures for labor, supplies and a host of others too numerous to mention should be told the taxpayer. Few people realize any part of a cities' business—it may be an education for many.

American people may be funny, queer or what have you, but shown a real need, needs which affect everyone, they are never loathe to vote down a reasonable bond issue, when all the facts are known. Observation of other cities and towns prove that statement.

To those in command of the City of Campbell, I would subgest, at this time, that the area which could be in the city is growing smaller every day. Even two or three days ago a meeting was held to feel out the possibility of taking all the property north of Payne Ave. into San Jose. On your toes, Councilmen.

Thank you again Mr. Editor for bringing the facts of the Improvement Issue to the people. If it should come to pass that the proposition is put to the people, I am sure they will look to you and your paper for all the information available. Thank you.

Yours truly

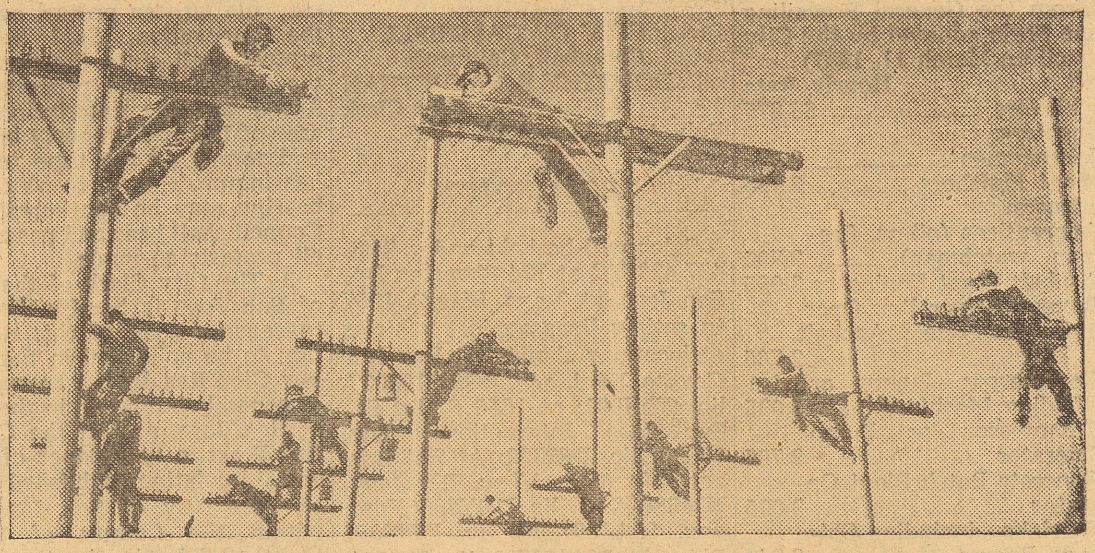
Chuck Luhring—young man getting up in this world

Just over a year ago, when Chuck Luhring decided to look into telephone work, he knew little about it. But because he showed good promise, he was hired and trained with regular pay. Today Chuck's a telephone lineman with a solid career ahead of him. In a business where management comes up from the ranks, there are lots of chances for promotion. The work is steady, and the pay keeps up with advancement. To Chuck, these things make a good job. And the fact telephone jobs are good, pays off for you, too. It means capable people are attracted into the business. And this means better service for you.



"Classroom in the sky," where Chuck Luhring got his training, is one of many telephone schools up and down the Coast. Others train operators, business office people, installers, and so on. Giving good people good training is another way we see to it that your service is in capable hands.

The loss of a home for the oldsters is sometimes a major tragedy and the fear of living alone in strange surroundings is something many recipients try desperately to avoid. Just a little over 32 per cent of all recipients have managed to retain some real property.

The property owned by these people as noted previously does not exceed the total assessed value allowed by law. In 84 per cent of the cases the property consists of a modest home. Others own either a home and other property or just property other than a home. And again, forced sales would undoubtedly realize very little and that resource would soon be exhausted.

How Much Income?

In very large programs or operations there are always misunderstood or misconstrued facts and even some wierd interpretations. The income or resource question seems to come in for more than its share of weirdisms. The very plain fact is that anyone can earn or have resources but the recipients who do not have unusual needs will get whatever amount is necessary to add to their income to allow them a basic living scale of $89 per month.

In other words, if an eligible recipient has earnings or income of any type, this must be utilized before adding the amount needed from OAS funds to bring the total income from all sources up to $89 a month.

For example, if a recipient has $40 a month from OASI, $10 a month from relatives, and say, company retirement payment of $15, the basic income he has is $65 a month, to which can be added $24 a month, according to the current laws.

Over 68 per cent of those receiving aid do have income, aside from the OAS grant, which average about $37 a month. Men have a higher average ($41.65) than women ($34.32). The difference is again a reflection of the higher amounts received by men from the federal insurance and also a higher earning capacity. That answers the question, do the amounts of aid grants vary?

The money the recipients received other than state aid is termed "outside income" and is derived from several sources: the already mentioned OAS, contribtions from spouse, contributions from adult children, pensions, income from real property, recipients' earnings, contributions from friends and many other sources. The laws require that every resource must be utilized.

The OASI is the most important source, with a total of 39.8 per cent of the overall total. Contributions from adult children, a controversial item, totals a little over 15 per cent.

Is everyone on the OAS rolls denied everything but the basic needs of life? That is a frequent question. The State of California has long recognized that the amount of the grant is not always sufficient for all needs and that certain needs not included in the basic needs of everyday life do occur: special diets, special transportation, doctor, dentist, drugs, eyeglasses, hearing aids, dentures, and many other authorized items, not covered by the basic $89.

Recipients who do have outside income can use specific amounts for meeting special needs.

For example, if a recipient has a special need for a pair of glasses at a total cost of $42.50 and has an "outside income" of say, $50 a month, the $42.50 will be subtracted from the $50 outside income and the remainder, or $7.50, will be utilized for basic needs with the addition of a grant of $81.50 for that month only. The following month, if there are no other special needs, the $50 "outside income" will be utilized and this month a grant of $39 will be added.

Of course, many special needs are not that simple and some are of long duration.

For the recipient who does not have any outside income the present laws make no provision for meeting special needs. The recipient must seek help elsewhere from either the home county resources or private funds.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

The beauty of Washington's cherry blossoms presented a welcome relief last week to the grimness of the worst budget cutting squabble ever known on Capitol Hill. Close to one million visitors thronged the Tidal Basin surrounding the Jefferson Memorial to view the famous Yoshino blossoms which adorned trees presented as a gift from the City of Tokyo in 1912. The annual cherry blossom festival, second in grandeur only to inaugural festivities, was officially opened with the lighting of a 300 year old stone lantern presented to the City of Washington by the Mayor of Tokyo in 1952.

Newest "prop" in the annual festival is a $100,000 pearl crown proudly worn by the Cherry Blossom Queen as the donation of the fabulous Japanese pearl king, Mikimoto. Visitors who marveled at the delicate, frail beauty of the Japanese blossoms probably gave little thought to the extensive predictions and preparations required to time the festival with actual emergence of the prized blooms.

Traditionally, the celebration is scheduled almost a year in advance and is timed for the first weekend in April. Next year, because Easter falls in the first week of April, the festival will probably be scheduled for March 29 and 30. Chances are that the flowering gift of Tokyo citizens will not oblige by opening precisely on the earlier date.

Mr. Sutton Jett of the National Capital Parks is considering use of gas burning heaters to promote earlier blooming in 1958, but may be forced to discard the idea as he did earlier use of a hormone spray designed to retard blooming. Some consideration may also be given oil sprays similar to those by California orchardists to stimulate earlier bud development and flowering.

As one of the nation's most treasured possessions, the cherry trees are nursed by an expert plant pathologist. The parent stock in Tokyo suffered tremendously from neglect during and following World War II, until an appeal from Japan to our pathologist sent two American cuttings winging their way to Tokyo. Expertly grafted, this introduction of healthy, virile bark has rejuvenated the Tokyo parent stock, but it is still considered inferior to the transplanted offspring in the United States.

CIVIL DEFENSE 'KEYPOINT' for Los Angeles is typical of some 200 such communication centers throughout the nation maintained by local civil defense. In less populous areas, "keypoints" are often police or fire stations, where someone is always on duty. They depend on the Federal Civil Defense Administration's 14,180-mile warning net (inset) to link them to Air Force air defense division control centers. Keypoints notify, in turn some 3,500 "sub-keypoints" which set off sirens and call out civil defense personnel.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Try one or several of the dwarfed citrus trees as tubbed or patio plants. These trees bear heavily in tubs and are ornamental all through the year.

2. Tuberous begonia seedlings can now be set out in that shady nook. The American Hybrid strain which had its origin in the Santa Cruz area is considered the worlds finest.

3. Once again it's Azalea planting time. Various varieties, which differ in habit and sun tolerance are available.

4. Remember when planting anything, good soil preparation pays off.

5. In some cases lawns are not practical. There is a lawn substitute or ground cover for most every conceivable situation.

True Dwarf Citrus Trees

True dwarf citrus trees are now available which bear superb fruit and foliage, fill the garden with the fragrance of their flowers and which may be raised virtually anywhere with minimum care. The citrus tree stands as the unofficial symbol of California, and visitors "expect" to see an orange or lemon tree in your garden. Now you may have one, regardless of the size or scope of your garden area, advises the California Association of Nurserymen.

True dwarf trees were pioneered and developed by Floyd C. Dillon and his son Don Dillon, of Mission San Jose. They now offer 30 true dwarf varieties, ranging from oranges and lemons to tangelos and kumquats, created by grafting choice "mother trees" onto selected dwarfing root stocks. The use of this special root stock is the key factor, and requires painstaking selection for each variety.

The remarkable dwarfs thus produced possess fruiting and appearance as desirable as the "mother tree" itself, and the "mother trees" were chosen from the most perfect of their strains.

With today's "garden living", trees and shrubs in boxes can become articles of furniture, to be lived with and moved around according to taste. Dwarf citrus trees fit this idea perfectly, as they thrive in containers. True dwarf citrus trees occupy less than one-fourth the space of orchard trees, but they bear up to 70 per cent as much fruit. They may be planted the year around in any sunny, wind-free location. At maturity, in about 15-years, they are some eibht feet high and wide. (Standard citrus trees reach about 20-feet in height and width at the same stage.)

You may choose from 30-varieties of oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit, tangerines, mandarins and kumquats—all available upon inquiry at your local nurseryman's. Grown in the can, they have all roots intact, and may be readily transplanted. Given light, heat, moisture, drainage and nutrient, they require but minimum care.

These remarkable trees are adaptable to varied soils, but those rich in humus are best. Drainage is important: one way to provide for it is with a raised bed, with the tree entirely above grade. A liberal sized basin is desirable for irrigation around the tree. Happily enough, watering is relatively infrequent. The basic idea is to water thoroughly, letting it soak down deep. Once the tree is established water only when the tree needs it—the leaves will be in a wilting condition. During the dry season established trees need water once every month or six weeks. New insecticides make pest control easy for modern gardeners, and your local nurseryman can aid your selection.

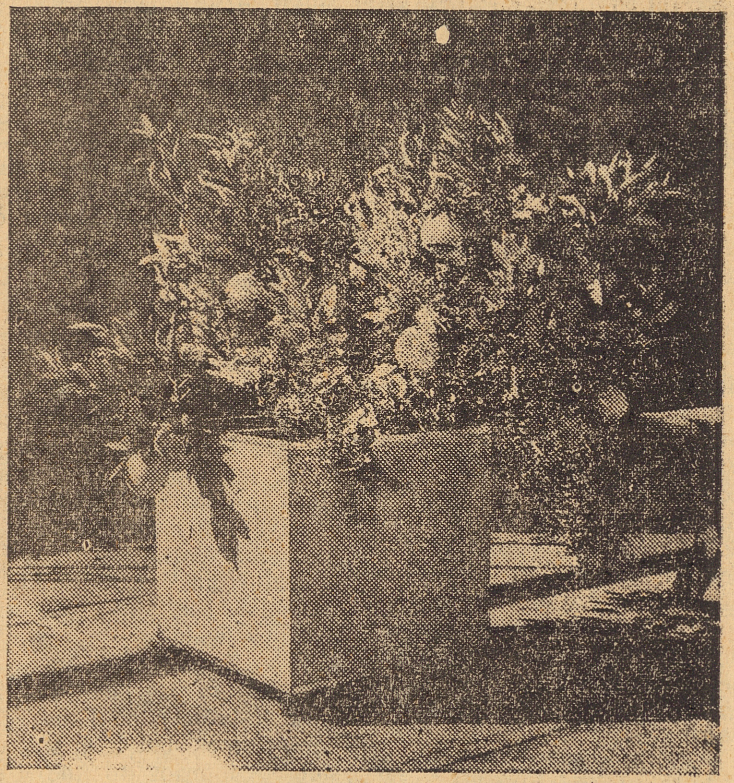
Here are some planting instructioons to follow. If you plant in a container, use ½ virgin soil, ¼ sand and ¼ peat moss. USE NO MANURE. Fertilize only after your dwarf citrus has become established—about six months after planting. Once a month, use a balanced commercial fertilizer containing six per cent nitrogen; apply at the time of irrigation ½ cup the first year; ¾ cup the second year; one cup the third year; increasing gradually in this proportion as the tree grows.

Mulch with peat moss, leaf mold, manures, shavings, sawdust, etc. to conserve moisture, moderate heat and to retard soil crusting and keep down weeds.

Among the most popular varieties of true dwarf citrus are Robertson Navel, Washington Navel and Valencia oranges; Eureka and Meyer Lemons; Marsh Seedless Grapefruit; Kinnow Mandarins; Mexican and Rangpur Limes; and Negami Kumquats.

Enjoy the pleasure of raising choice fruits in your garden now, with true dwarf citrus trees. Look for the graft, which indicates a true dwarf variety that will furnish superb fruit and foliage.

TRUE DWARF CITRUS TREE



Four Winds Growers, Mission San José, Calif.

A typical true dwarf citrus tree, the Washington Navel Orange illustrates the fine fruit and foliage yield of these true dwarfs... grafted to special dwarf root stocks [illegible] in containers or in the ground.

Container Roses

Although the bare root planting season is over you can still plant Roses for nurseries everywhere have all the popular varieties of the various Rose types available in containers.

Roses in containers are just as easily planted as bare root. Prepare the planting hole as you do for bare root Roses. Cut the can away and lift out the plant and balled dirt so as not to disturb the dirt from the roots. Set the plant, dirt ball and all, into the planting hole, making sure the Rose will be at the depth it was in the container (check the dirt line around the trunk). Center the plant in the hole, making sure the Rose will have room to spread its roots. Fill in the hole with a mixture of soil and peat moss or compost then water to settle mixture in hole. Make a deep, permanent watering basin around the Rose trunk and water regularly and deeply. Do not fertilize a newly planted Rose until it is well established, about six months from planting time—then use a balanced commercial fertilizer.

No matter what Rose type you want to plant, you will find it available in containers, assures the California Association of Nurserymen. The All America selections of 1957 include a climber and floribunda which every nursery has in stock. The hybrid teas, grandifloras, miniatures, tree and pillar types are just as plentiful now in nurseries as they were during the bare root season.

If your gardening fancies turn to thoughts of Roses these spring days, stop in at the local nursery and select several container Roses in the varieties you want.

New Varieties of Marigolds

Marigolds might be called sun-rays, for their brilliant blooms of yellow, gold and orange brighten a garden as does the sun itself.

Marigolds are cool weather annuals and should be planted now in the interior valleys so they will bloom before the hot summer weather begins. A hardy plant, the Marigold will do best in rich soil with plenty of water and full sun; but it will grow in poorer soils too. Remove old flowers so the plants will bloom for a long period.

Boxes, pots and other containers make fine homes for Marigolds as do flower beds where you can plant this annual in solid masses of a single color or blending combinations, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen. Marigolds are handsome cut flowers too.

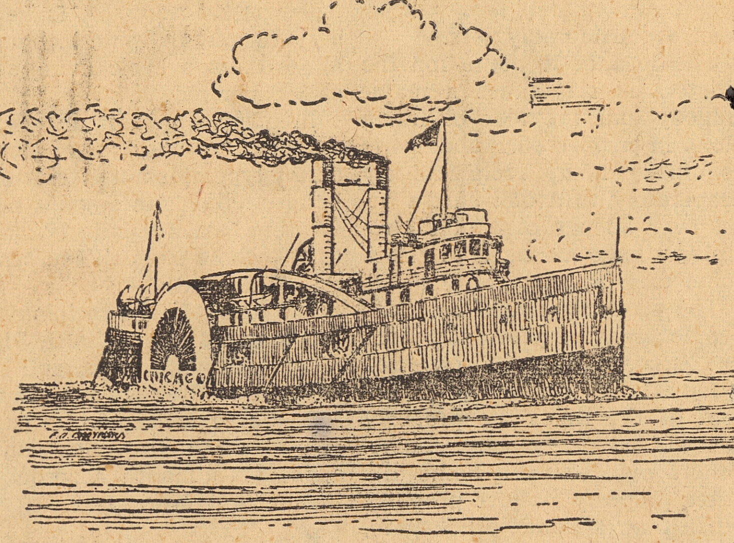
Recent introductions of new varieties have widened the color range of the Marigold. In addition to the standard colors of yellow and orange there are now blooms in orange with a scarlet sheen, orange with mahogany centers, apricot, lemon, persimmon and cream. Marigolds with larger sized blooms and petal variations are available now too.

Check with your nurseryman on his selection of Marigolds and choose several plants from the many varieties available. Marigolds will bring some cheerful "planted" sunshine into your garden.

Man's capacities have never been measured; nor are we to judge of what he can do by any precedents, so little has been tried.

Thoreau

A Famous American Ship



Twenty years is the average life of a steamer, but the grand old Lake Michigan steamboat CHICAGO served 45 years. With her giant paddle-wheel boxes, great arches and two tall smokestacks athwartships, she was typical of the best in Great Lakes design of the day. She was one of the best known Great Lakes passenger steamers, lasting until 1919. Today's Great Lakes vessels are very different. With the coming of the St. Lawrence Seaway, new ocean-type ships are being planned by a score of leading American-flag steamship lines for service between Lake ports and the outside world. America's fourth coastline, long a dream, is approaching reality, according to the American Merchant Marine Institute.

Man himself is the crowning wonder of creation; the study of his nature the noblest study the world affords.

William Ewart Gladstone

The superior man is he who develops in harmonious proportions, his moral, intellectual, and physical nature.
